This has been a busy year for the administration of Mount Everett. The outside world found its way into the school's cloistered halls; the normally quiet fall found Mount Everett in the throes of its first bomb scare.

Fashion made 1969-70 the year of the pants. Mount Everett joined the trend. Both administration and students found it a welcome change, especially when winter came.

This was the year of the course-duration options. Many high school students could take courses for one, two, or three marking periods.

Mount Everett started a cooperative program with Monument Mountain in the area of vocational programs. Preliminary self-evaluation started toward the accreditation testing to be done next year.

YELLING ENTHUSIASTICALLY

Arch! Point those toes! Lift! Janis Bosworth demonstrates the stag jump.

Advisor, Miss Lewis, and basketball cheerleaders had only a few Mount Everett fans to help yell at the first Lenox game — away.

BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS: Candy Leining, Louise Antony, Pat Mielke, Julie MacDonald, Shelley L'Hommedieu, Cheryl Hewins, Dawn Samuels. CENTER: SUSAN McNAMARA — CAPTAIN. Basketball Cheerleading tradition was broken in three ways this year: (1) The faculty chose the squad instead of the student body. (2) The traditional nine member squad consisted of only six girls. (3) A junior (Susan McNamara) was elected captain.

TRY FOR THE LEAD

TRAIL AS

OR THE LEAD IN THE SENIOR PLAY

ERASMUS

This year the Senior Class plans to present John Hasse' play Erasmus With Freckles, on April 16 and 17. The whole three-act play takes place in the home of Professor Bob Leaf, which happens to be a ferry boat permanently moored in San Francisco Bay. The problem arises when Erasmus, his genius son, finds a mistake in the annual statement of the Bank of America. When the reporters, psychologists, bankers, and young people come to the ferry boat for a variety of reasons, the comedy and confusion begins.

Erasmus With Freckles was chosen by the Senior Class and advisor-director Mr. Simanek because of the large cast — requiring ten major roles, twelve minor roles and some extras — and because of the amusing nature of the play.

Principal Characters

Bob Leaf	a young professor
Erasmus	his problem child
Pandy	his older daughter
Cissy	his younger daughter
Mac	a retired Navy man
Abigail	his sister
Vina	a pretty psychologist
Miss Ryan	a reporter
Miss Coria	a secretary
Al Hodkins	a computer expert

(Student in foreground: Chris Heddleson and Marlene Warner.)

The building structures program at Mount Everett is the only one of its kind run by a regional school in Berkshire County. The program is set up so that participants who may begin in their sophomore year will have a chance to build three houses by the time they are seniors. After three years in the program, they will have been exposed to carpentry, masonry, plumbing, and wiring, under the direction of Mr. Welles Sellew and local professional contractors. The houses (they are presently working on their fifth) are sold for the price of the materials used. Mount Everett Lumber Company sponsors the program which prepares Mount Everett students for work in the construction fields.
